

TSB781AP | Targus 16" Bex Backpack

More than just a backpack, Targus 16" Bex Backpack features a dedicated laptop compartment along with ample document storage space. Designed with style, the subtle coral accents add a stylish yet discreet note to this contemporary and innovative backpack.

The case is designed to protect a laptop up to 16". The laptop is securely protected in the padded compartment, easily and conveniently accessible through a side opening, while the front dedicated compartment accommodates an iPad® / tablet. The backpack also features an innovative and secure ✕ drawstring closure as well as a front flap and a durable buckle, giving the bag a contemporary and fashionable look. The zippered front compartment and dual-side pockets can store accessories, a water bottle and other small items. The backpack is made of thin yet durable polyester with water repellent finish and features a weather-resistant base to ensure the contents of the bag remains protected, even when the bag is placed on a wet surface or used in difficult weather conditions such as rain or humidity. Comfortably carried on the back using the padded shoulder straps or by hand using the padded handle, the Bex Backpack is suitable for students and young professionals alike.
